

Welcome to NETLIGHT

Netlight is an independent, value driven consulting firm, which by competence, creativity and business sense delivers independent solutions and tangible, valuable results.

Being a Genuine Consultant includes being independent from products, technologies and methods. It means to be in the forefront of current valuable expertise in the relevant technology, solution and industry areas. Genuine consultants deliver solutions based on the clients requirements and take responsibility for ensuring that the client achieves results. Being a Genuine Consultant requires great trust between client and supplier, however, in return means that the value delivered is more important than expense and specific technologies. It is what separates a true consulting firm from the rest and makes it's offer unbeatable.

Here you will get your login instructions and information about communication tools as well as equipment along with tips on how you quickly can get started at Netlight.

Communication tools

At Netlight we use a number of tools to communicate and to collaborate with each other. Log in today to quickly come in to the community at Netlight and keep yourself updated with what's going on.

Rebel

On Rebel, Netlight's intranet, you can find the latest and current information on everything related to Netlight. Rebel also contains contact information for all our colleagues at Netlight, guides, templates and Ccells. Ccells are Netlight's competence cells. If any ccell is interesting for you e.g. example Java, contact fi@netlight.com so they can put you on the mailing list for future get-to-togethers or meetings. You log in on Rebel with your username and password. Go to your profile page to add a picture and more information about yourself so your colleagues can see who you are.

<http://rebel.netlight.com>

Slack

Slack is our professional communication tool for knowledge sharing, finding ccells and when you quickly need help on an assignment and want to use Netlight's combined expertise to get tips and advice. Log in with your Netlight e-mail by following the link below.

<http://netlight.slack.com>

Meetup

Meetup gives a great overview of all current and future events at Netlight; from the smallest get-to-together, to the largest Summits, locally at your own Netlight office or internationally at all other offices. Log on with the earlier provided username and password, and keep up to date with everything that is going on.

<http://meetup.netlight.com>

Dropbox

We use Dropbox Business at Netlight for file sharing. Check your inbox for an e-mail from Dropbox. Join your Netlight team and follow the instructions, log in with your shortname and Netlight password.

Read more at <https://rebel.netlight.com/equipment/dropbox/>

Email

You will be put on different mailing lists so you have access to important information that goes out to the company, the various activities we have, and so that we can contact you. Internal e-mail is used primarily for direct communication between individuals and dispatch to groups or entire Netlight if necessary. Large dispatches are well suited for spreading of information and events. For external use of email, it is particularly important to communicate professionally. This includes the use of Netlight's standardized email signature which can be easily generated on Rebel.

Log in to webmail directly:

<https://mail.netlight.com>

Equipment

Netlight wants to make it easy for everyone by providing alternatives to those who wish to have their own equipment, or we provide equipment that works well for its intended purpose. We provide you with both a computer and a smart phone. There are several options when it comes to equipment. Go to this link to choose the best computer and phone for you.

<http://equipment.netlight.com>

Get started

Read these documents thoroughly to get an insight of life at Netlight.

Hi Consultant!

Hi Assignment!

Hi Consultant Interview!

